Summary

Hi everyone!

I am a dedicated undergraduate student at HCMIU and a research fellow at AloTLab Vietnam, with a passion for problem-solving and collaboration.

With experience and passion for software development across various fields—including :

- Backend development (using NodeJS, Golang, Python)
- System DevOps development
- Blockchain (Hyperledger Fabric is designed for enterprise-grade blockchain solutions, offering a secure and scalable framework for private and permissioned networks)

Also, I am willing to do my best on frontend client-side, cloud computing and project operations. I aspire to find a role where I can make a meaningful impact while enjoying the work I do every day.
